SANKARAN Venkateswar, Saint Mary's College of California, USA stated that black money tracking, reduction of illegal financial activities, increased tax payments and Jandhan Yojana are the advantages of demonstisation.

Speaking during the inauguration of the thirteenth international seminar 'Financial Markets: Issues and Challenges,' organised by Department of Commerce and Financial Studies of Bharathidasan University (BDU) held recently, Prof Sankaran said, "The problems faced by the individuals in meeting their special payment needs, like wedding, are disadvantages of demonstisation." Dr Sankaran said the report of the Country's Central bank indicated that demonstization appeared to have achieved the opposite of its intended goal.

Speaking on pre-GST and post-GST tax structures and its potential benefits and negative impacts in India, he said that the negative impacts of GST and demonstisation are short term, tion, lead to the changing pattern of but the positive effects will be beneficial in the long run. Dr Ershad Ali, Anckland Institute of Studies, New Zealand addressed the gathering on 'Internationalization of Education and Delivery Model'. of stock market, on the development He said that international education has gained popularity in the context of abundance of opportunity in the local job market. "The factors, namely economic growth, socio-cultural change, cost-benefit issues and rapid globalizaeducation," Dr Ali added.
